AES and Public Works Department

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to express my strong endorsement of American Cleaning Technologies (ACT) for its exceptional capabilities in mitigating the harmful effects of illicit discharges and environmental hazards. As Project Manager for Public Works for Pueblo County, I have witnessed firsthand the effectiveness of ACT in safeguarding our infrastructure and natural environment.

ACT stands out due to its unmatched ability to rapidly counteract the adverse impacts of hydrocarbons and biological hazards on both land and water. It demonstrably breaks down and absorbs oils, chemicals, and other harmful substances, facilitating their safe and eco-friendly disposal. Additionally, its versatility allows for application across a wide range of surfaces and scenarios, making it an invaluable tool for our department's efforts in:

- Road and Bridge Maintenance: ACT can be used to address spills and leaks from vehicles, as well as for cleaning up after accidents.
- Stormwater Management: Its ability to absorb pollutants makes it ideal for preventing contamination of waterways through storm drains.
- Park and Facility Maintenance: ACT can be used for various cleanup tasks, from graffiti removal to oil spills on parking lots.

Pueblo County Public Works Department has utilized ACT in various situations, including our 2024 Stormwater Pollution Mitigation Project. We were consistently impressed by ACT's ability to eliminate oil and debris from our stormwater system. As a result, we have incorporated ACT into our emergency response protocols and standard maintenance procedures.

ACT has proven time and again to be an indispensable asset for Pueblo County Public Works Department. Its reliability, efficacy, and environmentally conscious approach make it the ideal choice for any organization seeking to effectively mitigate environmental hazards.

Sincerely,

Drew Percival, Project Manager
